This is to inform you that we, Marge and Eunice, will be retiring at the end of February. Our family, starting with our parents, Toshio and Yoshiko Yamamoto, have served the Waipahu plantation community and later the rest of Oahu for 76 years. We are sad to say good-bye to all of you who have patronized our store. We have become good friends and we want to thank you so very much. Please give us this last opportunity to provide you with our merchandise at greatly reduced prices. —Aloha, Eunice & Marge
