▲ Hotel Helps Keiki Wishes Come True

'Alohilani Resort Waikīkī Beach has donated more than $33,000 to Make-A-Wish Hawai'i. For every kama'āina stay during the hotel's LOVE Hawai'i campaign, $10 was contributed to grant life-changing wishes to local keiki fighting critical illnesses. Pictured (from left) are Arden Salassa, corporate relations manager, Make-A-Wish Hawai'i; Jennifer Miranda, complex director, 'Alohilani Finance; Chase Heu, area director of food and beverage, Highgate; Michael Kass, general manger, 'Alohilani Resort Waikīkī Beach; Trini Kaopuiki Clark, president and CEO, Make-A-Wish Hawai'i; James Donnelly, hospitality and development manager, Make-A-Wish Hawai'i; Kelly Sanders, executive vice president, Highgate; and James Guindon, regional vice-president, Highgate Finance. Photo Courtesy Make-A-Wish Hawai'i

▲ Campaign Assists Nonprofit's Cause, Mission

Alex Wereszczynskyj (left holding check), development director of Help, Understanding & Group Support (HUGS), accepts a donation of $8,150 from HomeWorld — a longtime partner of the nonprofit. HomeWorld garnered the funds through its annual Stressless Event campaign, during which customers who donated $50 or more to HUGS received up to $400 off on select Stressless-branded furniture. HUGS has been the beneficiary of its charity campaign for more than five years. Pictured with Wereszczynskyj are HomeWorld team members (from left) Joanne Dayanan, Summer Partlon, Daphne Oliveros, Brandon Tagama, Derek Miyazaki, Mary Racca-Ventura and Gloria Bijanjan. PHOTO COURTESY HELP, UNDERSTANDING & GROUP SUPPORT

. . . . . .

